

- 13 Scientists have been working to achieve a practical nuclear fusion reactor for more than 70 years. So far, this has been with only limited success.

Explain the difficulties involved with fusion as a viable source of power on Earth.

You should include reference to the conditions necessary for fusion to occur.

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

(Total for Question 13 = 4 marks)