10	C is the correct answer as the distance between adjacent nodes is half a wavelength	(1)
	A is not the correct answer as all points between two adjacent nodes are in phase.
	B is not the correct answer as antinodes are points of maximum amplitude.
	D is not the correct answer as stationary waves have no net transfer of energy.	